

FOUR INPUTS BEFORE THE AGENT ACTS — THREE ESTABLISHED, ONE INHERITED

The agent establishes none of these.

It may author the profile document to the human's scope decision; it may not decide the scope.

WHY SCOPE AND NOT DESIGN

What to govern is the decision that cannot be delegated to the system being governed without making its governing authority self-referential.

Everything downstream of these four is derivable. None of it is authorization.